

ST VERONICAS STEEL ORCHESTRA

After 16 years of being a “Youth” orchestra, our focus has now become that of a “Family” orchestra.

The FAMILY has become a needed focus for the youth in our society today. There is need for guidance and continuity; role models have become a necessity. We therefore are using the medium of the steel drums to keep the FAMILY together; the adults will be the role models for our youth; they will set the stage for our youth to become focus on positive attitudes and behaviors leading towards a more positive society.

So as we progress forward we are accepting both young people and adults who not only want to learn to play the instruments but can make positive contributions towards each other.
